

Tarsier Pharma - Privacy Policy

We at Tarsier Pharma Ltd. (“Tarsier Pharma”, “we”, “us” or “our”) respect your privacy. This Privacy Policy (“Policy”) explains the accepted privacy practices for our online services at our website (“<https://tarsierpharma.com/>”). It also describes the rights and options available to you with respect to your personal information.

The Website provides content and information about Tarsier Pharma and its research and development of a novel platform for treatment of ocular inflammatory diseases.

You do not have a legal duty to provide the information and providing it is subject to your unconditional consent. Proving the service of online inquiries on our Website will not be available to those choosing not to provide the information requested.

PERSONAL DATA WE COLLECT

We collect two types of information: information you actively provide us when contacting us or statistical information about use of the Website.

Inquiries. If you wish to send us a query of any kind via our online contact form, you will be required to provide us with your name and email address (“Inquiry Information”). In order to respond to certain queries, we may ask you to provide additional information (such as your telephone number).

Statistical information. When you visit our Website, we may record and collect certain information in relation to your visit and use of the Website, including: IP address (and location), time and date of access, type of browser used, links clicked and the web pages you accessed (“Analytical Information”).

Cookies. We collect Analytical Information through “Cookies”, which are text files, comprised of small amount of data, that are saved on your computer or other device (e.g. smartphone, tablet, etc.) when you use internet and visit various websites. We use cookies for several purposes:

- Necessary. Cookies that are strictly necessary for the functioning of the Website. The Website cannot operate properly without these cookies. You can set your browser to block or alert you about these cookies, but some parts of the Website may not function properly.
- Statistics. Cookies that help us understand how you and other users interact with our Website by collecting data that does not directly identify you.

The overall personal data outlined above will be referred to as the “Information”.

HOW WE USE YOUR INFORMATION

We use your Information in order to contact you about Inquiries you made and/or to operate the Website.

We may use your Information outlined above for the following purposes:

- Operating the Website and providing its features and functionalities;
- Contact you about inquiries you made;
- Send you email communications concerning our products, programs, developments and other related information. We will send you email communication subject to your explicit consent;

You may ‘opt-out’ of using your data for promotional communications at any time by following the “unsubscribe” link located at the bottom of each message. By doing so, Tarsier Pharma will only delete the Information which is required to contact you for promotional communications, while the rest of the Information you submitted to us which is necessary in order to provide you with the Website’s services will continue to be processed.

- Improve and enhance the services and content offered on the Website.

WHEN AND HOW WE SHARE YOUR INFORMATION

We share your Information mainly with our contractors and service providers, strictly for the purpose of helping us with the internal operation of the Website.

We will not share your Information with third parties, except in the events listed below or when you provide your explicit and informed consent:

- We will share your Information with our service providers (such as our hosting providers) who assist us with the internal operations of our Website and our services.

These companies are authorized to use your Information only as necessary to provide these services to us and not for their own promotional purposes. We do not sell your Information to third parties

- If you have breached any agreement you have with us (including this Policy), abused your rights to use the Websites, or violated any applicable law, your Information may be shared with the competent authorities, law enforcement and third parties (such as legal counsels and advisors), for the purpose of handling of the violation or breach;
- If we are required to disclose your Information by a judicial, governmental or regulatory authority;
- We will share your Information with members of our family group of companies, who help us process the data for the purpose set out above;
- If the operation of the Websites is organized within a different framework, or through another legal structure or entity (e.g. due to a merger or acquisition), we will share your Information to enable the structural change.

FOR HOW LONG WE KEEP YOUR INFORMATION

We will store your data for as long as we deem necessary for the purposes detailed in this Policy

We retain personal data for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for (as detailed above), including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, accounting, or reporting requirements. We, at Tarsier Pharma, always consider the type of information collected, the amount of information, how sensitive it might be. Accordingly, we determine the appropriate retention period.

We may also anonymize your Information so that it can no longer be associated with you, in which case we will use such Information without further notice to you.

HOW DO WE PROTECT YOUR INFORMATION?

We implement measures to reduce the risks of damage and unauthorized access or use of information, including when data is transferred outside the E.U.

Security Measures. We implement measures to reduce the risks of damage, loss of Information and unauthorized access or use of Information. We also request our affiliates to implement such measures in order to secure the Information we provide them. However, although efforts are made to secure your Information, we cannot guarantee its absolute protection.

Cross-Border Data Transfers. We are based in Israel. Information we collect from you will be processed in Israel, which is recognized by the European Commission as having adequate protection for personal data. Certain information may be stored externally via cloud services. We will only transfer your personal information to a country or company which has been deemed to have an adequate level of data protection by the EU commission, or under other adequate safeguards determined under the applicable law.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION FOR E.U RESIDENTS

Controller. Tarsier Pharma Ltd. is the data controller for the purposes of the personal data we collect via the Website and for the performance of the services offered through the Website.

LEGAL BASIS FOR PROCESSING YOUR DATA

- The legal basis for processing and collecting Inquiry Information is its necessity for the provision of feedback, comment or service in response to your inquiry;
- The legal basis for processing and collecting Analytical Information is our legitimate interests in operating our website, ongoing management of our business and business development;
- The legal basis for collecting and processing your information for Promotional Communications is your explicit consent;

YOUR RIGHTS. You Have The Following Rights Under The GDPR:

- Right to Access. You have a right to access your personal data that we process and receive a copy of it.
- Right to Rectification. You have the right to ask us to rectify inaccurate personal data concerning you and to have incomplete personal data completed.

- Right to Data Portability. You have a right to receive the personal data that you provided to us, in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format. You have the right to transmit this data to a third party. Where technically feasible, you have the right that your personal data be transmitted directly from us to a third party you designated.
- Right to Withdraw Consent. You have the right to withdraw your consent for processing your personal data at any time. If you do that, we will not collect any further personal data, but we will further process the data we already collected for reasons described in this Policy. Withdrawing your consent will not affect the lawfulness of data processing we carried out based on your consent before such withdrawal.
- Right to Object. If you previously agreed that your personal data may be used for other purposes other than registering and/or placing an order, you may have a right to object to the use of your personal data for such additional purposes.
- Right to Restrict. You have the right to restrict processing of your personal data (except for storing it) if you contest the accuracy of your personal data, for a period enabling us to verify its accuracy; if you believe that the processing is unlawful and you opposes the erasure of the personal data and requests instead to restrict its use; if we no longer need the personal data for the purposes outlined in this Policy, but they are required by you to establish, exercise or defence relating to legal claims, or if you object to processing, pending the verification whether our legitimate grounds for processing override yours.
- Right to be Forgotten. Under certain circumstances, such as when you withdraw your consent, you have the right to ask us to erase your personal data. However, we may still process your personal data if it is necessary to comply with a legal obligation we are subject to under laws in EU Member States.

If you believe your right have been infringed, you can lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority operating under the GDPR. For a list of supervisory authorities in the EU, click here.
